Park District Studies Enclosure of Ballard Complex

Park Commissioners approved a $3,500 feasability study Tuesday for the enclosing of the ice rink at the Ballard Park Sports Complex.

In a second action a hot-headed assistant principal at Notre Dame High School threatened to end the Niles Park District's use of its land, after resident George Leddy objected to the ND basketball team's use of the Grennan Heights gym behind locked doors.

which prevented Nilesites from using the gym during open free period.

In a third action outdoor ice skating will be restricted to Grennan Heights, Oakton Manor and Jozwiak Parks. Last year's outdoor rinks at NICO, Kirk Lane, Courtland Park and Ballard Park will not be utilized this year.

Park Commissioner Jack Leske objected to the $3,500 maximum appropriation for the ice rink enclosure. The money is to come from revenue from the rink. Leske objected, because the engineer's feasability study did not have any cost figure attached to it and Leske said he could not vote for a study which could run from a few hundred dollars to $40,000. Even when the $3,500 maximum was attached to the 3 week study Leske still voted against it.

The study is to be completed by December 7. Commissioner Walt Beusse and Bill Keener led the way for the study. Noting the mistakes made in the Grennan Heights Gym, in which soundproofing was constructed after the gym was open, Keener said that the spending of $1,000,000 for the sports complex, implies the district should have a complete professional study for the enclosure.

In the donneybrook over the use of the Grennan Heights gym, George Leddy, who led the citizens action for the building of last year's sports facilities, objected to Notre Dame High School using the park gymnasium for its basketball team during open hours. He said the team was playing behind locked doors during the open hours gym.

NO OPEN CAMPUS FOR MAINE HIGHS

The following is the policy announced at Monday night's Maine High school board meeting, which sets down guide lines regarding open campus for students:

1) The Board of Education believes that all students should be required to attend regularly all assigned classes and homeroom and should be in attendance continuously for at least five clock hours to meet the minimum Illinois School Code requirements.

2) Toward that end, the Board of Education supports the concept of open-ended scheduling by which individual students can be scheduled in a school day of less than nine periods, provided that such a schedule is administratively feasible, meets legal requirements, and has parental approval. Such a concept of individual student scheduling permits students, based on parental request, to have late arrival and/or early dismissal. Outside the confines of this compressed schedue, the students are free to spendtheir time away from the school campus.

3) The Board of Education believes that insofar as possible the policy concerning student freedom within the schools and on their campuses should be uniform throughout the district.

4) The Board of Education supports the idea of giving students, during those periods in their school day when they are not assigned to classes or homeroom, the opportunity of choice among designated areas on the campus where the student, within limits,

A demoralized group of Maine East High School student council members left the regular board meeting Monday night after their bid for an open campus was turned down by the Board.

The Council had spent many months studying neighboring schools and fashioned impressive figures which showed neighboring open campus programs actually reduced vandalism in the schools, and school grades were not affected by the greater freedom. But Monday night the conservative wing of the school board issued its policy which students contend is little different than what now prevails at Maine East.

While the Board held open meetings at all 4 Maine High Schools, the meeting at Maine East during the early fall heard almost an unanimity of opinion, from faculty and students, favoring a liberalizing of the present campus status. Student council members, as well as faculty advisors, all suggested it was time the Maine High Schools followed the lead of neighboring schools in allowing students free time when they did not have regular classes.

By presenting the report at this time, just prior to a crucial December referendum for an increase in the educational tax, may have contributed to the more conservative policy. Opening the campus before the vote, obviously would not have sat well with many parents, who prefer the schools to act as teen-age baby sitters for their children.

While the Board members were far from unanimous in their opinions, and split 4 to 3 on several issues, the split was most noteworthy in the bid to loosen the reins for seniors. The Des Plaines and Niles board members, Mike Bartos and Wes Hartzell, both said they favored allowing seniors the freedom of off campus activity during the times regular scheduled classes were not in session.

Nilesite Roy Makela used the phrase "freedom on campus" to describe the new policy for upper grade students. But student council members told us the policy is little different than before.

School superintendent Short pointed out "freedom for one could be interference for others" referring

Citizens Unite to Inform Voters

Thru the concern of the Mayor to more closely unite the people of Niles, the men listed below have grouped together to help and to inform the citizens in any matters or problems that may concern them.

At the present time our main interest is the registration of all un-registered residents, beginning with the 18 year olds. The dates for registration are as follows: Starting - Nov. 19, 7 p.m. till 9 p.m. Special registration for 18 year olds: Nov. 27, Saturday, 8:30 a.m. till 2 p.m. at the Administration Bldg., Milwaukee and Howard st., 967-6100. Requirements: Resident of state - 6 months, precinct - 30 days.

A problem the people of Niles have had is the changing of precinct numbers for National and Village Elections. This practice will no longer occur. Precinct numbers will now remain the same as on your Voters Registration card so as to avoid any confusion in the future.

If you or anyone of voting age in your household would like to assist or help in this project, or have any questions please contact one of the following:

Precinct Representatives — Niles Township, Ken Galinski, 965-7048; Chris O'Brien, 966-7472; Norm Katz; Don Campbell, 967-7426; Joe Raymond, 967-7883; Syd Mitchell, 966-8649; Hal Golden, 966-9883; Ed Brasch, 965-4431.

The party, to be held at the Legion Memorial Home, 6140 Dempster, derives funds for their operating expenses throughout the year, the purchase of uniforms and stipends to widows and other areas of assistance.

Squad commander Richard Mendels says the Legion's usual fish and chicken fry meals will begin the evening at the same low prices. However, before the 8 p.m. food closing time, turkeys will be awarded to many diners. Donation for this is just $1.

Christmas Surprise at Golf Mill

A forest of light will shine forth from the Golf Mill Shopping Center today when Thomas Edison's magic wand is tapped. The shopping center will be in all new Christmas dress using a blue and green color theme.

185 modular trees varying in height from 3 to 15 feet are joined by 4,100 feet of arcing garland defining the perimeter of the center. The design on the Sears and J.C. Penney store fronts will appear to "grow" by means of a timing device lighting a portion of the pattern, followed by additional lighted portions.

The interior malls will turn into Christmas lanes with alternating scrolls of garland suspending large Christmas tree ornaments of blue, green and white.

"We wanted to share the spirit of Christmas with our neighbors by offering something truly beautiful. We hope we will have accomplished this," reported Mrs. Jane Brenner, promotion director of the Golf Mill Merchants Association. "We were seeking something simple, yet elegant, exciting and still warm and friendly. We wanted to look Christmas pretty both day and night. The project represents quite an investment by the merchants, not only in time and money, but in creative thought as well, she added.

The Christmas decorations committee is composed of: Charles Sheffieck of Karroll's, chairman, Sidney Ellman of Jackie's Circle, president of the Association, Eldon Ray of J.C. Penney's, Donald Behrman of Sears, Daniel Morris of Books, Inc. and Mrs. Brenner.

The Golf Mill Shopping Center, which last month celebrated its 11th anniversary, is located in Niles at Milwaukee ave., Golf rd. and Greenwood ave.

Wedding Bells

Marjorie Evenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Evenson, Park Ridge, was married to James Glynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Glynn, 7800 W. Keeney, Niles, on August 28, in a seven-thirty candlelight ceremony at St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Park Ridge. The Reverend Ernest Habig and Reverend Andrew Boe, the bride's brother-in-law, officiated.

The bridal gown of ivory silk organza and the catherdral train were embroidered with beaded Alencon lace. The matching headpiece accented a silk cathedral veil. The bride carried a cascade of white elegance carnations and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Daniel Knauss, was the matron of honor. Mrs. Andrew Boe, Mrs. James Worthley, also sisters of the bride, Mrs. Rick Straley, and Miss Carol Stover were bridesmaids. Their floor length gowns in tones of aqua were fashioned in cotton brocade. They carried nosegays of yellow and white elegance carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mr. Nathan Miller, one of the groom's fraternity brothers, was best man. Michael Nace, David Spitzer, Ross Thompson, also fraternity brothers, and Daniel Knauss, the bride's brother-in-law were groomsmen. The groom's brother, Stephen Glynn, was an usher and acolyte.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of aqua chiffon accented with a beaded bodice and empire waist. The groom's mother chose an orchid floor length gown in chiffon with an embroidered bodice and long gathered sleeves.

After a reception at the Holiday Inn, the couple left for a honeymoon in Canada. They will live in Springfield, Ohio, where they are both seniors at Wittenberg University.

Senior Citizens Hold Surprise Party

Morton Grove Senior Citizens club held a surprise luncheon last week at Swedish Manor Smorgasborg Restaurant on Vera McNulty. It was her 90th birthday. About 40 of us were there, and was she surprised. She is one of our oldest members and also a charter member. She has always been and still is very active. She scarcely ever misses a meeting and is head of our sewing group. Vera has made and still does make many lap robes for veterans in hospitals who are wheelchair patients.

This turned out to be a lively party. We sang to her, Ethel Moran wrote and dedicated a poem to her which was read to us by Bill Hafke, our president. Music on the harmonica by Ernest Anderson.

Vera seems to be in average health for her age.

A lovely planter was presented to her by the club with our inscription engraved on it. Good Luck and good health to you, Vera, we hope you will be with us a while yet.

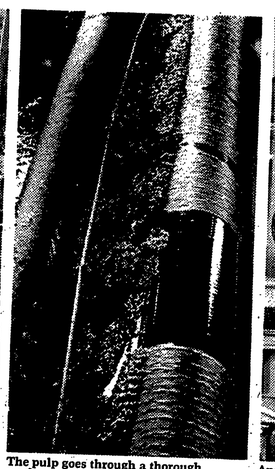
Old paper is recycled here.

Salvaged paper is dumped into vats where it is turned back into pulp.



The pulp goes through a thorough washing cycle.

And out come rolls of fresh paper, ready for reuse.

Know how many pounds of paper can be made from the average tree?

118 pounds. So taking 1 ton of old paper and turning it into new paper will save 17 trees from being cut down.

It's called recycling.

And the power behind recycling? It's electricity.

The machines that take out the foreign material—the staples and paper clips—and de-ink the paper and turn it into pulp are powered by electricity. The complete cycle takes about 90 minutes.

And nowadays, we have paper mills devoted exclusively to recycling old paper and turning it into rolls of bright fresh paper.

We're proud that electricity helps make all kinds of recycling possible. Because reducing litter and conserving resources is as important to us as it is to you.

PET CIRCLE

By Sandi Horwitz

In last week's episode we left Kricket in a deep sleep. She had just had her ears cropped by Dr. Stresser and was on her way home to sleep it off - Now back to our story.

The puppy usually comes around in about nine hours. Sometimes the puppy will moan and groan, shake his head back and forth and from side to side. This is all part of the pattern, but if the puppy shows signs of pain, he can be given an aspirin not exceeding five grains every four or five hours.

When puppy awakes he will still be woozy and may fall and wobble when he walks. This too is part of the pattern, so don't be alarmed. He usually gets his sea legs in about one-half hour. When the puppy is really up and about, remove the cap and gauze, as the ears need the healing powers of the open air on the stiches. You can then offer him some warm milk or water and some soft light food. The ears usually heal in about ten days at which time they usually remove the stitches. The most important thing to remember is not to let puppy scratch his ears as he can infect the stitches. Therefore you will have to watch him closely for the ten days.

My own experience with Kricket followed this pattern to a tee. She moaned and groaned, shook her head back and forth and from side to side and when she tried to stand up, she fell over. She looked like a stumble bum on a binge. It took about ten tries before she got her sea legs. She immediately wanted to go outside and relieve herself. After this was done she looked for food, which she ate with much relish.

She has been driving me crazy trying to scratch her ears. Every time the paw comes out, so does my hand to cover the ear. She ends up scratching me, the results are great - she scratches I itch.

There are many pros and cons on ear cropping. In England it is a complete taboo. Many people who purchase a puppy there usually have the ears done when the animal arrives in the states. I have also been told there are some states here that will not accept a cropped dog in the ring for show. Dr. Strenser defends cropping by saying it's healthier for the puppy who has cropped ears than for the puppy who has droopy ones. The droopy-eared puppies are more predisposed to ear trouble than puppies with cropped ears because basically it is a condition of air circulation. Open ears tend to dry out better than covered ears and do not produce a good media where infectious organisms can grow.

Now readers, I give you this thought. How do you feel about ear cropping? Ihave given to you what I have experienced with my own puppy. If you have any comment on this subject, please write or call me Sandi Horwitz, in care of the Bugle, and we will be happy to print your comments in Pet Circle. Please let us know how you, the readers really feel about ear cropping.

P.S. For those who may be interested I have come across a most delightful magazine. It's called Animal Lovers Magazine, and carries articles, stories and pictures on all types of pets. The editor and creator is Anita Coffelt. Cost of a subscription is $2 for one year and $3.75 for two years. You can send a check or money order to Animal Lovers Magazine, P.O. Box 783, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006. For further information call area code 312-394-8943. This is a must for the true animal lover.

to students in class being interrupted by students allowed unrestricted freedom.

What was most demoralizing to the teens was the feeling all their efforts went for nought. The student council had spent much time compiling information concerning open campus and it was their feeling their painstaking efforts deserved a better fate. Many of them voiced the opinions they were not really being heard by the board.

Board members favoring open campus for seniors noted next year several of the students may be in the armed forces, and certainly on college campuses, which will give them the freedom they desire. The implication was by the senior year it was time to begin loosening the reins for the 17 year olds.

While we agree with the board members students 14 and 15 years old should have a structured program thruout the day, which includes study periods, we were hopeful the juniors and seniors might be allowed greater freedom. During our younger days we were able to come and go pretty much as we chose at our Chicago high school. The school bordered the highest crime rate area in the United States then (63rd and Woodlawn) and the scholastic standing of the school was among the highest in the entire Chicagoland area. The school was a preparatory school for the University of Chicago in the days Robert Hutchins ran the school, and holding such tight reins on the students was unheard of then. The school bordered on a street car line, an elevated track, and the most unseemly street (63rd) in the entire city. Pool halls, bookies, and ladies of the night, were prevalent within whispering distance of the school. A park across the street was heavily forested camouflaging crap games and other "anti-social" behaviour which was a part of the school day.

On the other hand (as Tevye says in Fiddler) a Wheeling high school teacher told me they've tightened the reins there after allowing the students greater freedom there last year. It was his contention grades have improved, and he said he's sure the students are much happier.

is free to engage in activities appropriate to the area. This choice will be determined by the limitations of each campus.

5) However, the Board of Education believes that all freshmen and sophomores should have a regular assignment in a supervised study area during a portion of their non-instructional time.

6) The Board of Education believes that the option should be open for juniors and seniors, in accord with increasing responsibility that accompanies maturity and the individual's personal interpretation of his need, to participate in supervised non-instructional activities during the school day.

It is the intent of the Board of Education that the administration and faculty use the statements set forth above to evaluate current and proposed operational procedures related to the best use of school time for students of the Maine Township High Schools and review annually with the Board of Education, after completion of the 1971-72 school year, the effectiveness of such guidelines.

Park Board. . .

munity since last spring, was offended by Leddy's remarks. He said the school paid $7.50 per hour for the gym, while allowing the park district to use its land for $1 per year. He said ND was being treated like 2nd class citizens. He then said "our lease will be re-considered" regarding the $1 rental per year for use of ND land for park programs. Leddy, a 23 year gym teacher in Chicago, referred to Williams remarks as those of a "bleeding heart". He objected to the private school using the public facility during the open time, barring the children from its use.

The park board, obviously with Williams' threat, said they would offer the gym from 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. after Commissioner Leske told Williams the park district maintains 40 acres of Notre Dame property in exchange for use of the land.

In the action concerning the elimination of 4 ice rinks The Bugle was reminded maintaining outdoor ice rinks costs about $20,000 for the winter and as Leske mentioned, the Board is greatly relieved when February rolls around, inferring the icing and maintaining the rinks is burdensome as well as expensive.

Helmut Dressler, the new park director, reported the sports complex has brought in $30,000 since its opening but the district will need an equal participation from girls if the rink is to be profitable, or even pay its own way. Dressler said $250,000 is the figure neighboring rinks use for the break-even point, but there has been a poor demand for tokens so far. He said girls' figure skating classes and other girls' activities are a must to insure the success of the rink.

Niles Days Requests

At the recent meeting of the Niles Days Committee, it was announced that all requests for funds from the Niles Days Festival of 1972 be submitted no later than Jan. 3, 1972. These requests should be submitted in writing stating the exact purpose for which the request is made to the Committee Chairman Ed Brasch, 7735F Nordica ave., Niles.

Over the past five years about $63,000 was distributed to organizations of civic, cultural, fraternal, and religious origin, whose base is in Niles. Scholarships to promising artists, equipment of all kinds for the Scouts of Niles, transportation costs to the Senior Citizens, as well as an ambulance for the Niles Fire Department are among a few of the things that this carnival has brought about.

Discussion of all requests and the allocation of the funds will be held at future Niles Days Committee meetings.

KEEP AMERICA STRONG

Legion Meets Tonite

The Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 will meet a week earlier than usual this month due to the Thanksgiving holiday. Their Thursday, Nov. 18 session at 8 p.m. in the Legion Memorial Home will be called to order by Cmdr. William Cunnally.

his pay, if anyone thinks differently, I will reimburse the village." Dick Hohs said, "In the Fire Department, with a father and two sons there, it's caused a lot of dissention. If I had a son who qualified for a job or not, he wouldn't have a job with the village while I was an official." Mayor Bode said he did not agree with this. Ed Brice said, "The Fire Chief's son was No. 4 in all of the exams and that is why he was chosen. Do you think our commissioners cheated?" Hohs replied, "I think you're trying to put words in my mouth, however, there may have been some hanky panky."

A letter was received from Arthur E. Kent, Director of Community Affairs at Oakton Community College requesting the Security Force of that school be given the right to act outside their boundaries in order to cooperate with us (MG Police) and be able to issue warning tickets or traffic citations around the school. Chief Norman Glauner said this should work out well since their security guards are around the school premises at all times. He also noted the village would receive all monies from any tickets issued. The trustees voted in favor of granting the request.

In other business Engineer George Holt said there was a meeting of the Street Committee last week in which he and Public Works Supt. Dahm discussed all the work to be done on the repairing of village streets. He also said he would like someone from the Safety Committee present when final priorities are determined and Ed Brice was chosen. Police Chief Glauner said he met this afternoon with representatives from Skokie, Niles, and Lincolnwood to discuss how each municipality handles their juvenile problem. The Chief also noted that a refresher course for crossing guards will be given to help them in aiding children to cross the streets safely.

Trustee Martin Ashman said the Water Dept. had 6 water main leaks last week which have all been repaired. Ed Brice read a letter from Mrs. Ruth Eaton thanking the Fire Dept. for getting her brother to a hospital quickly when he was ill. David Cohen announced the October Income Tax Rebate of $10,995.07. Mr. Cohen then read a report from Richard Zembron, Social Service Director. In the last five months, 11 families have come for help. Among the people Mr. Zembron has seen were a runaway boy, a family with a communication problem between the father and a teenage daughter and a drug user and possible runaway. Mr. Zembron said in the winter months he will be using the Library Conference Room and expressed his appreciation to the Library Board for granting his request to use the premises.

John Hilkin said the Air Pollution Commission held their regular meeting last night. Dick Hohs reported he would attend the meeting of the North Suburban Transportation Council in Skokie and said he thought that plans for the North Suburban Mass Transit District will be finalized.

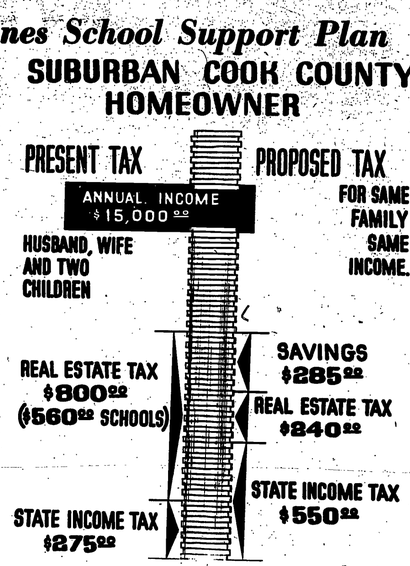
Blase Outlines School Support Plan



A state lottery and a doubled state income tax were among the recommendations by Niles Mayor Nicholas B. Blase to replace the local property tax as a means of supporting the state's schools.

Blase filed a suit on Sept. 1 challenging the state's system of financing schools through local property taxes and seeking to transfer school support from the local to state level.

Blase said his plan will be a saving to homeowners by ending the "regressive and unrealistic" property tax. He said that despite the higher income tax, homeowners would have a net savings.

According to Blase, "If our suit is successful, 1,600,000,000 dollars presently raised through property taxes should be eliminated as a source of revenue to the state. In its place I would recommend as a starting point to the solving of this financial dilemma, the following steps to supplement this $1,600,000,000.

1) The personal property tax particularly as it applies to corporations, must be maintained until 1979, since corporations primarily contribute to it to the amount of 80% of all personal property taxes collected. Therefore, 200 million dollars in personal property taxes presently goes to education, one hundred, seventy-five million dollars of which is from corporations.

2) Double the present tax on horse racing which will raise fifty million dollars.

3) One cent additional on cigarettes would raise $13,550,000.

4) A 1/3 increase on the liquor tax would raise twenty-three million dollars.

5) We must institute a lottery in Illinois since similar lottery experiences in New York and New Jersey have shown a net of between thirty million and forty million dollars in each of these states.

6) Bills may be presented to Congress this coming year to raise government support to education from the present 4% to 30%. It may be more realistic to anticipate receiving 15% which could contribute an additional two hundred forty-five million dollars to the present one hundred million dollars the government is now spending on education in Illinois. We must push for this higher support level.

The above six steps should raise approximately five hundred million dollars. The remainder could be raised by an additional state income tax of 2.5% on individuals and 4% on corporations. I wish to point out what might occur if you were to make this increase in the state income tax of an average Cook County suburban homeowner. Example: A homeowner presently earning $15,000 annually, with two children, pays 2.5% State income tax on $11,000 (after deductions) or about $275. total. On the average real estate property tax bill in suburban Cook County, of $800, approximately $560 or 70% of the bill goes toward education. On a $600 real estate property tax bill, $420 or 70% goes toward education. If our suit is successful, the $560 or $420 would be eliminated. Then following my formula of an additional 2.5% income tax, the homeowner would replace that $560 or $420 saved with $275 additional income tax, saving himself $285 or $145 respectively. The added advantage would be that with the income tax, the homeowner would pay more each year ONLY if his earnings increased, whereas with the property tax, he is burdened with the ever increasing real estate property tax regardless of whether he earns more. Wealthier people would pay a higher amount in income tax than they presently pay on real estate taxes.

The subject is a very difficult one. The Supreme Court of California and a Federal District court in Minnesota have already ruled the present school financing formula unconstitutional. Priority demands we approach this problem immediately and not wait for the Supreme Court decision in the State of Illinois before taking action.

Instruction Program

Through special arrangements between District 63 and District 207, Walter Wolodkin, director of Maine North's string orchestra, will conduct free string classes for Apollo Junior High school students beginning Nov. 29.

Mr. Wolodkin gave a series of demonstrations of string instruments this week at Apollo Junior High. The demonstration included the instruments of the string family and an opportunity for students to experiment and even play in the demonstration. The violin, cello, viola, and string base were the instruments used. A psychological musical aptitude test, the Music Profile, was given to students to measure their natural skills and to also measure their emotional capacity which is required to play a musical instrument.

Students were placed in small groups for the demonstrations to view at a close range the instrument and the skill needed to play.

Students who are interested in the new string program and who are accepted will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Apollo.

Wolodkin sais the biggest advantage to the student would be six years of concentrated study under one teacher. "We believe that this program, providing one or two years of training at the junior high level and four years at the high school level is an unusual opportunity," Wolodkin said.

dent graduated from Apollo and enters Maine North, he will be scheduled into a daily intermediate string class which gain credit toward graduation.

Wolodkin added that if a student advances to Maine North's concert group, one full credit will be awarded with an opportunity to perform a wide variety of music including North's annual "Broadway Musical."

"These performing groups tour major colleges and universities, providing the finest opportunities for growth and self determination," Wolodkin said.

Wolodkin will meet with Apollo students and their parents on Monday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at Apollo Junior High. Parents may enroll their child in the string class at this time. The classes will begin on Nov. 29 and on Dec. 6; students will decide which instrument they would like to play after a week of experimentation.

Jim Stewart at Library Nov. 19

The Friends of Niles Public Library, in conjunction with the Niles Public Library District, present Jim Stewart, host of "Passage to Adventure," on Friday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Stewart will present the film "Hawaii," which begins in bustling, cosmopolitan Honolulu, port of entry for all travelers flying into these colorful islands. We'll visit Sea Life Park, home of the jumping whale, the Polonesian Cultural Center and the outer islands, visiting Maui, Kaui and Hawaii.

Jim became the host of "Passage to Adventure" in 1965. The program, currently seen on Channel 7, was Chicago television's first travel and adventure series. Stewart is himself a world traveler and trips have taken him to England, Italy, Egypt and Africa.
